3. An application for consent made ~~to the authority~~ under Article 2 of this Order shall be in writing stating the reasons for making the application and shall by reference if necessary to a plan specify the trees to which the application relates, and the operations for the carrying out of which consent is required.

4.-(1) Where an application for consent is made ~~to the authority~~ under this Order, the authority may grant such consent either unconditionally, or subject to such conditions (including conditions requiring the replacement of any tree by one or more trees on the site or in the immediate vicinity thereof), as the authority may think fit, or may refuse consent:

Provided that where the application relates to any woodland specified in the First Schedule to this Order the authority shall grant consent so far as accords with the principles of good forestry, except where, in the opinion of the authority, it is necessary in the interests of amenity to maintain the special character of the woodland or the woodland character of the area and shall not impose conditions on such consent requiring replacement or replanting.

the authority shall give to the owner of the land on which that part of the woodland is situated a direction in writing specifying the manner in which and the time within which he shall replant such land and where such a direction is given and the part is felled the owner shall, subject to the provision of this Order and section 175 of the Act, replant the said land in accordance with the direction.

- (e) protective measures against fire.

7. On imposing any condition requiring the replacement of any tree under Article 4 of the Order, or on giving a direction under Article 6 of this Order with respect to the replanting of woodlands, the authority shall if such a condition or direction relates to land in respect of which byelaws made by a water authority since 31 March 1974, by any other authority (whose functions are now exercised by a water authority) who at any time prior to 1 April 1974 exercised the functions in respect of which the byelaw was made, by a drainage board, or by the Greater London Council in the exercise of any of its functions in relation to the maintenance, improvement or construction of watercourses or of drainage works restrict or regulate the planting of trees, notify the applicant or the owner of the land, as the case may be, of the existence of such byelaws and that any such condition or direction has effect subject to the requirements of the water authority, the drainage board, or the Greater London Council under those byelaws and the condition or direction shall have effect accordingly.

8. The provisions set out in the Third Schedule to this Order, being provisions of Part III of the Act adapted and modified for the purposes of this Order, shall apply in relation thereto.

9. Subject to the provisions of this Order, any person who has suffered loss or damage in consequence of any refusal (including revocation or modification) of consent under this Order or of any grant of any such consent subject to conditions, shall, if he makes a claim on the authority within the time and in the manner prescribed by this Order, be entitled to recover from the authority compensation in respect of such loss or damage:

Provided that no compensation shall be payable in respect of loss or damage suffered by reason of such refusal or grant of consent in the case of any trees the subject of a certificate in accordance with Article 5 of this Order.

10. In assessing compensation payable under the last preceding Article account shall be taken of :

- (a) any compensation or contribution which has been paid whether to the claimant or any other person, in respect of the same trees under the terms of this or any other Tree Preservation Order under section 60 of the Act or under the terms of any Interim Preservation Order made under section 8 of the Town and Country Planning (Interim Development) Act 1943, or any compensation which has been paid or which could have been claimed under any provision relating to the preservation of trees or protection of woodlands contained in an operative scheme under the Town and Country Planning Act 1932, and
- (b) any injurious affection to any land of the owner which would result from the felling of the trees the subject of the claim.

11.-(1) A claim for compensation under this Order shall be in writing and shall be made by serving it on the authority, such service to be effected by addressing the claim to the authority and leaving it at or sending it by post to the principal office of the authority.

(2) The time within which any such claim shall be made as aforesaid shall be a period of twelve months from the date of the decision of the authority, or of the Secretary of State, as the case may be, or where an appeal has been made to the Secretary of State against the decision of the authority, from the date of the decision of the Secretary of State on the appeal.

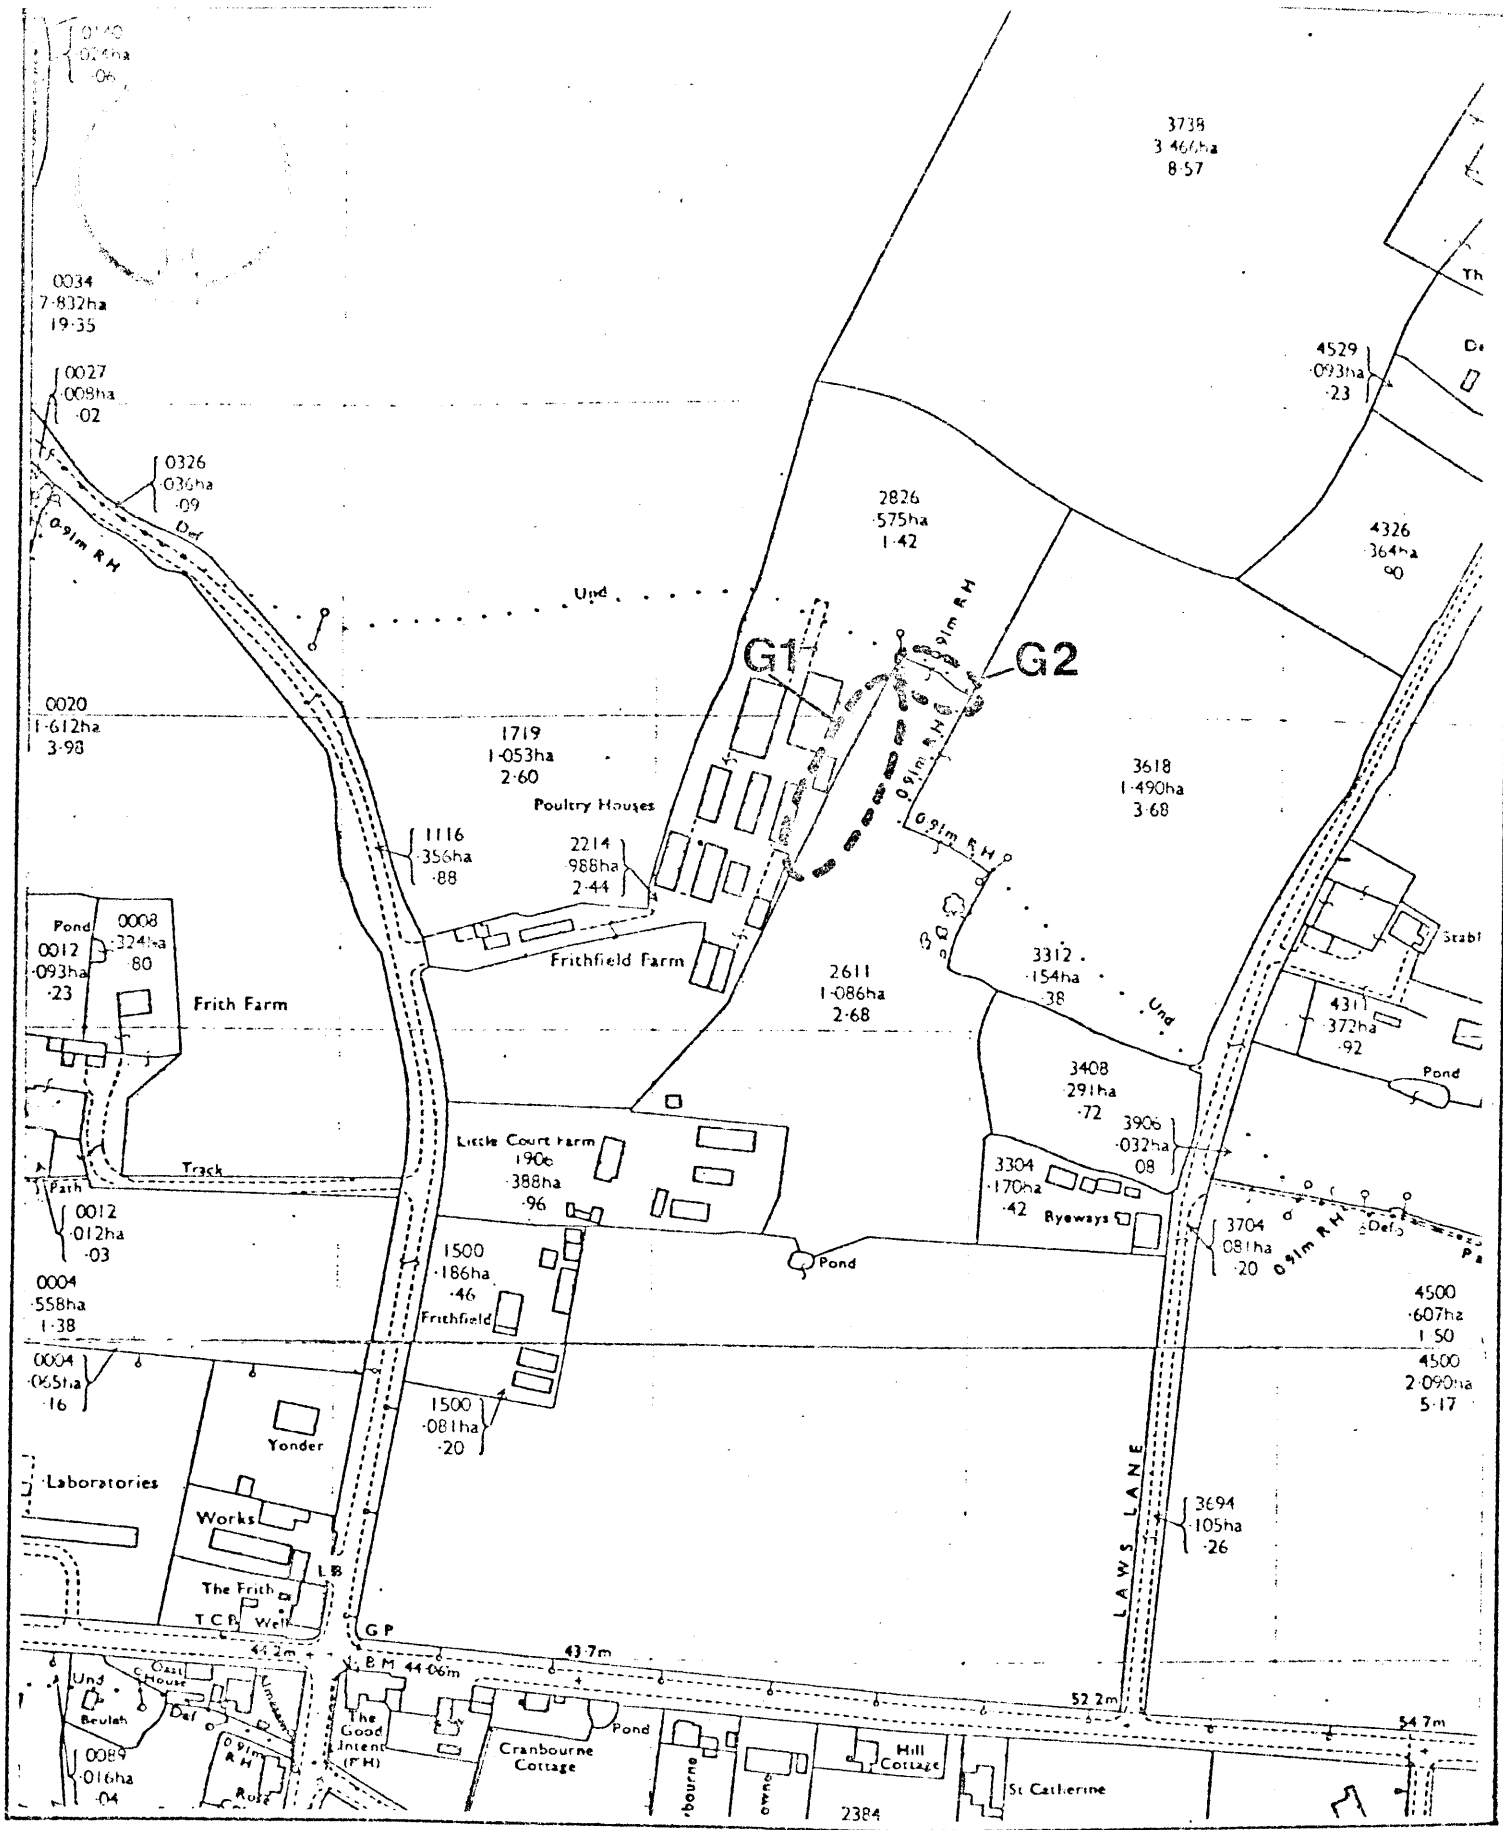

12. Any question of disputed compensation shall be determined in accordance with the provisions of section 179 of the Act.

13. (1) The provisions of section 61 of the Act shall apply to this Order and the Order shall take effect on 26th May 1978.

~~(2) This order shall apply to any tree specified in the First Schedule hereto, which is to be planted as mentioned therein, as from the time when that tree is planted.~~

NOTE: Any person contravening the provisions of this Order by cutting down, uprooting or wilfully destroying a tree, or by wilfully damaging, topping or lopping a tree in such a manner as to be likely to destroy it is guilty of an offence and liable on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding £400 or twice the sum which appears to the court to be the value of the tree, whichever is the greater, or on indictment to a fine. The penalty for any other contravention of this Order is a fine not exceeding £200 on summary conviction and, in the case of a continuing offence when the contravention is continued after conviction, a person is liable on summary conviction to an additional fine not exceeding £5 for every day on which the contravention is so continued.

If a tree other than one to which an Order applies as part of a woodland is removed, uprooted or destroyed in contravention of an Order or is removed, uprooted or destroyed or dies at a time when its cutting down or uprooting is authorised only by section 60(6) of the Town and Country Planning Act 1971 relating to trees which are dying or dead or have become dangerous, it is the duty of the owner of the land, unless on his application the local planning authority dispense with the requirement, to plant another tree of appropriate size and species at the same place as soon as he reasonably can. Except in emergency, not less than 5 days previous notice of the removal, etc., should be given to the authority to enable the latter to decide whether or not to dispense with the requirement.

TOWN AND COUNTRY PLANNING ACT 1971
THE ASHFORD BOROUGH COUNCIL TREE PRESERVATION ORDER NO 4, 1978
FRITHFIELD FARM, ALDINGTON

1. I am directed by the Secretary of State to refer to the above-named Order and to the objection thereto by Messrs Mowll and Mowll on behalf of the late Mr R R Luckhurst.

2. All representations and observations made in this connection have been considered and an officer of the Department has visited the site.

3. The objection was made on the following grounds:-

The positioning of the trees in question is shown on the plan annexed to the Order and it can be seen from this that the trees, in particular those referred to as Group 1, are dangerously close to the poultry houses, storage buildings and broiler houses situated at Frithfield Farm. The objection rests on the proximity of the trees to these buildings and the foreseeable damage which would occur should branches or, indeed, one of the trees fall themselves onto the buildings. In fact, such damage has already occurred when one of the branches of an oak tree together with an elm tree falling onto one such building smashing its roof. This incident caused the loss of 380 birds and necessitated the ordering of a replacement building. Should such an incident happen again it could only result in considerable similar damage to the buildings and further replacement involving the Company in considerable expense. It would also cause further casualties among the birds and seriously disrupt the running of the business.

4. The Council made the Order because they considered that the trees were of special visual amenity value to the area.

5. The Order relates to an expanse of rather flat elevated mixed farming country, with fields of varying size. Many fields are now divided by wire fencing with few hedgerow trees remaining; some of the roadside trees, including a line of Ash just west of the village crossroads, have been drastically pollarded to heights around 4 ft. The trees in G1 and G2 are mature oaks about 40 ft high, showing evidence of neglect, with some dead and broken branches. G1 comprises the best in a line of hedgerow trees. Counting the trees from north to south, the 5th tree down the line, is like others in this hedgerow, twin stemmed. One stem appears to be quite dead, while the other stem shows so many dead and broken branches that it can only be regarded as half alive. It therefore seems that, taken as a whole, this tree is about 3/4 dead. G2 comprises the only trees seen in a short hedgerow; the central tree is twin stemmed, both stems seeming to be in fair to good condition.

6. It is considered that groups G1 and G2 contribute positively to the character of a scene which is under threat from the gradual disappearance of treed hedgerows and through the impact of non-traditional industrialised farm buildings. The Order would not operate to require consent for the felling of any trees which had become dangerous nor would it preclude the felling of trees for any other reason, with the authority's consent, which might be subject to conditions for replacement, not necessarily in the same species. The Secretary of State, therefore, has decided in pursuance of the powers conferred on him by section 60(4) of the Act of 1971 to confirm the Ashford Borough Council Tree Preservation Order No 4, 1978, subject to modification excluding the 5th Oak down from the northernmost point of G1 and altering the number of Oaks described in G1 from 7 to 6.

7. The confirmed modified Order is enclosed and attention is drawn to regulation 9 of SI 1969 No 17.

8. Section 245 of the Town and Country Planning Act 1971 provides that if a person is aggrieved by any order of a description which includes the present order on the grounds that it is not within the powers of the Act, or that any of the relevant requirements have not been complied with in relation to that order, he may, within six weeks from the date on which the order is confirmed apply to the High Court to quash the order. The relevant requirements are any requirements of the Act of 1971 or of the Tribunals and Inquiries Act 1971, or of any order, regulations or rules made under either of those Acts which are applicable to this order. If the application is made on the grounds that any of the relevant requirements have not been complied with, it must be shown to the satisfaction of the Court that the interests of the applicant have been substantially prejudiced by a failure to comply with any of the relevant requirements in relation to the order. A similar right of appeal is given by the Section to the local authority directly concerned with the order.

9. A copy of this letter has been sent to Messrs Mowll and Mowll.

Your obedient Servant

MISS A J GLANVILL
